

Stanford Entrepreneurs Forum

『與創業達人有約』系列餐會

We're pleased to inform you that Stanford Entrepreneurs Forum will resume on every first Wednesday of the month starting from October, 2015. The Forum will invite top-tier entrepreneurs, industry experts, venture capitalists and securities underwriters to share their stories and experiences on how to effectively incubate and grow high-tech ventures. The Forum offers opportunities to connect ideas, technology and people. Welcome to join us.

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHY

Chris Lin (林冠羣), Co-Founder & CEO, KKBOX

In 2000, Chris Lin and his fellow Stanford alumnus, Lambert Chien, jointly founded the company that launched KKBOX towards the end of 2004, in an attempt to tap into the fast-growing music streaming market.

Currently the CEO of KKBOX, Chris is committed to providing a service for people to easily enjoy music and share their favorite songs with friends anywhere, anytime. With KKBOX delivering amazing results in Taiwan, Hong Kong, Singapore, Malaysia, Japan, and Thailand as Asia's leading brand among online music streaming services, Chris continues to lead the management in planning and executing corporate development strategies, product development, and overseas expansion.

Chris received a Master's degree in Operations Research from Stanford University following a Bachelor's degree in Manufacturing Engineering from Boston University.
